Profile

Carrie is a graduate of Northwestern University's Doctorate of Physical Therapy program and joined our team in July, 2017. Over the course of her personal, academic, and clinical career, Carrie has developed her passion for the sports orthopedic population. As a former Division 1 collegiate athlete, she thrives to facilitate injury prevention, maintenance, and rehabilitation.

In addition to coaching and love for athletics, Carrie works part-time for Aspire Home Healthcare. She finds honor and pride in taking post-operative patient's through their entire physical therapy experience to reach their goals. Carrie enjoys the dynamic, energetic atmosphere that the patients at IBJI Glenview has to offer. She continues to demonstrate her leadership and dedication to IBJI as the Assistant Facility Manager.
