

Haylie Rebilas, OTR/L

Occupational Therapist

Profile

Haylie Rebilas graduated with her Masters of Science in Occupational Therapy from Spalding University, located in Louisville, KY in 2019. Having a background in the performing arts and psychology, she knew she wanted to work in a setting that would encourage a creative and holistic approach to the rehabilitation process. Upper extremity occupational therapy has become the perfect fit and she is excited to contribute to this wonderful field. Haylie firmly believes in the power of meaningful occupation, combined with science, in achieving successful, client-centered outcomes. She is thrilled to join the IBJI rehabilitation team and work towards her goal of becoming a certified hand therapist.
