Profile

Rosanne Schenk, MS, OTR/L, graduated from Rush University with her Masters degree in 1995. She has been practicing Occupational Therapy in many settings such as rehabilitation, acute care, neuro, orthopedics, school systems and with most of her years of experience in outpatient hand and upper extremity therapy. Although Rosanne loves working with all upper extremity injuries, she has a special interest in wrist injuries, fractures, with special attention to manual therapy and soft tissue management.

Rosanne has her degree in elementary education, certified K-8 prior to becoming an occupational therapist. She has written a thesis on Spinal Cord Injuries and Role Changes. She enjoys spending time with her husband, two daughters and her dog. Her years of working in many arenas of OT has given her insight into treating the whole patient.
