Profile

Kristina has been working in outpatient orthopedics with Illinois Bone and Joint since 2004. She has worked at the Glenview and Lincolnwood offices prior to joining the team at Palatine. She is excited to have the opportunity serve the Palatine community through IBJI.

Kristina has treated a wide range of diagnoses, but especially enjoys working with patients with knee and low back problems. She has worked extensively with patients having both total knee and total hip joint replacements. In addition to this, she has a background in music (violin) and dance (ballet) and has been a member of IBJI's special interest group for Performing Arts.

Education

- BS, Psychology, Northwestern University
