Profile

Renee Weis is a Certified Hand Therapist at Illinois Bone and Joint Institute. Renee completed her education at The University of Iowa and Creighton University. She has 10 years of experience working in outpatient hand therapy clinics fabricating splints, providing wound care and treating a variety of shoulder, elbow, wrist and hand injuries. Renee strives to help patients regain function by tailoring each treatment plan to meet their specific goals. She wants her patients to understand the therapy process and feel confident as they progress throughout treatment. Outside of work, Renee enjoys being outdoors, traveling, and trying new restaurants.
