Profile

Tracy Uchi, OTR/L rejoined the Illinois Bone & Joint Institute Rehab team of Gurnee in 2019. She had worked as a rehabilitation technician for four years while pursuing her degree in Master of Science in Occupational Therapy through Mount Mary University. She enjoyed working along side with the physical and occupational therapists and being part of team that provides services with emphasis on teamwork, family-centered and holistic care.

Since graduation, she has worked in outpatient and inpatient rehabilitation and utilizes her background to consider all aspects of patient care. Tracy developed her skill set in assisting patients during rehab, and maximizing their independence and ease in their activities of daily living after injury, surgery, or debilitating conditions. Tracy is deeply committed to life-long learning and consistently invests her time in learning new techniques and finding other opportunities to grow as a clinician.

Tracy is an active member of Chicago Metro Hand Study Group and the Illinois Occupational Therapy Association (ILOTA). Outside the clinic, Tracy enjoys being active, volunteering, spending time with her friends, family, and trying different kinds of food.
